

ARCHITECTURAL RESOURCE TEAM

Responsible Investing Policy

Architectural Resource Team (ART) is a prosperous practice that invests in people, community, environment and country. ART supports organizations that are human and animal rights compliant, protecting employees and their families.

By supporting businesses that follow sustainable practices, ART contributes to the economies, communities, and societies we want to continue to provide for future generations.

ART has 100 percent of our investment portfolio as socially responsible investing (SRI). This includes the projects we choose to work on, perpetuating positive impacts on the community we reside in. ART offers a 401K plan, matching and investing in the stock market.

ART highly encourages each Employee in socially responsible investing, however we cannot control or have access to monitor what each individual chooses to invest in.

Furthermore, we use a community bank and non-profit financial corporation for 100 percent of our banking services, including a SBA loan that will fund our Living Building Challenge project, Sonoran Studio.
