

Local Control

Founded in 1894, AIA Seattle is a not-for-profit professional association of architects, allied professionals, and laypeople. AIA Seattle is committed to excellence in architecture and service to the public. AIA Seattle membership is open to everyone, including architects, architectural interns and students, allied professionals, and laypeople. AIA Seattle operates as an IRS-designated 501(c)(6) corporation.

AIA Seattle is the sixth largest urban component of the American Institute of Architects, with members throughout the Puget Sound area. AIA Seattle is one of six components affiliated with AIA Washington, based in Olympia, and is part of the AIA Northwest & Pacific Region.

AIA Seattle

Center for Architecture
& Design
1010 Western Ave
Seattle, WA 98104

T (206) 448 4938

aiaseattle.org

AIA Seattle is governed by a Board of Directors elected by the membership. The Board employs an Executive Director to implement Board policy and empowers the Executive Director to identify and secure staff and other resources necessary to operate the association.¹

¹ Excerpted from AIA Seattle Employee Handbook, Section 1.1 – History and General Information